GERMANS CAPTURE DIXMUDE AFTER DESPERATE ATTACK

Assault on the Allied Lines Between the Coast and the Lys River is Renewed by Germans With Great Vigor—Will Attempt to Hack Their Way Through to Dunkirk.

TERRIFIC BATTLE AGAIN RAGES AROUND YPRES

Fury of Fighting Unequalled by Any of History—Petrograd Dispatches Say That Germans Have Lost Decisive Battle in East—Some Experts Think the War Will End Some Time Next Spring.

London, Nov. 11.—The Germans have resumed their attack on the allied line between the coast and the Lys river, and while the French claim generally to have held their positions, the Germans have captured Dixmude, center of some of the fiercest and most sanguinary fighting of the war.

The country between Dixmude and Ypres, where the belligerents have made violent attacks and counter-attacks for weeks and where losses have been heavier even than those in the battle of the Yser, again is the scene of a battle, which for fury seldom, if ever, has been equalled.

Behind Dixmude is the direct road to Dunkirk, one of the French ports on which the Germans have apt their hearts, and if they can break through here the Allies will have to fall back to new positions. The invaders have concentrated their forces at this point and their success in taking Dixmude, where they claim to have captured 500 prisoners and positions west of Langemarck where, according to the Berlin report 2,000 prisoners fell into their hands, shows that the statements that they have been sending troops from the West to Poland, are without foundation.

Military men here believe the Germans as soon as they saw they could not capture Warsaw dispatched troops from that region to the West, not imagining that the Russian pursuit could be carried out with such rapidity.

At other points along the battle front in France the French official communication claims some successes for the Allies, but the German headquarters staff declares all attacks have been repulsed.

It is considered certain that with the enormous forces required for the effort to get through to the coast and to protect their own country from Russian invasion, the Germans cannot throw additional troops into the lines which stretch through Northern France and along the Franco-German border.

The French, though, whose army is growing daily might attempt an offensive against Lorraine or Alsace as a diversion which would relieve the pressure in the West.

The Germans, according to Petrograd dispatches, have suffered a more serious defeat on the East Prussian border than official statements have disclosed.

Advices from the Russian capital today say that in the recent fighting there the Russians have captured more than 20,000 prisoners and quantities of munitions and guns.

The Russian advance in Poland, which has been at the rate of 14 miles daily, has astonished military experts. This advance has continued for 18 days.

In Galicia the Russians continue to push the Austrians back, but the Austrians are having revenge along the Servian border which they threaten to cross in an endeavor to crush Servia before Russia can come to her assistance.

On fighting between Turkey and the Allies, reports are so contradictory there is no reconciling them.

While some continue to believe the war will be one of years there is an increasing belief that the great offensive campaign by the Allies in the spring, when England's new army of a million men can take the field, and Russia and France will be stronger than ever, will bring the conflict to an end.

DIXMUDE IS TAKEN.

German Official Account Tells of Terrific Battle in Belgium.

London, Nov. 11.—The following German official statement issued this afternoon is contained in a dispatch from Berlin transmitted by Marconi wireless:

"We made good progress yesterday on the Yser branch of the Ypres and took Dixmude by storm, capturing more than 500 prisoners and nine machine guns.

"Continuing south our troops crossed the canal and west of Langmarok and captured the first line of the enemy's position. About 2,000 infantry were taken prisoners and six machine guns were captured.

"South of Ypres we have driven the enemy out of St. Eloi. Despite fierce counter attacks by the British the dominating heights to the north of Fimenteres remain in our hands.

"Our attack has made progress to the southwest of Lille. The French suffered heavy losses while attempting to re-capture commanding heights to the north of Vienne Le Chateau in the forest of Argonne and to the northeast and south of Verdun French attacks were everywhere repulsed.

"No important information is at hand from the Eastern theatre of the war.

"It is officially reported from Vienna that heavy fighting at Chabats and Leanitza was heard through the night and some of the enemy's positions were taken by storm. To the east of Kupanje the pursuit of the enemy is being continued.

"There are movements of strong Russian forces in East Galicia and Bessarabia, a government of Southwestern Russia, this apparently being in connection with the Turkish war.

"General headquarters at Constantinople report that although snow is falling and in spite of a heavy atmosphere our offensive on the Caucasian frontier is maintained."

ASQUITH SEES END.

Predicts War Will Not Last as Long as Expected—Parliament.

London, Nov. 11.—In a speech in the House of Commons today after the opening of Parliament, Premier Asquith declared that he doubted whether the war would last as long as some people originally predicted, but that it would last long was certain.

"However, the longer it lasts," continued the Premier, "the more the great resources and strength of the Empire will be available to fill the gaps, to replace losses and maintain our position. The Empire is on trial and the experiences of the last three months have inspired us with confidence that the longer the trial lasts the more clearly will we emerge from it as the champions of a just cause."

Mr. Asquith expressed warm appreciation of support the government had received from all parties.

Regarding the sending of British marines to Antwerp just before the fall of that city, the Premier intimated that Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the admiralty, subsequently would make a more detailed statement, but he said that the responsibility for the expedition was shared by the government as a whole. Everything was done with the knowledge and approval of Earl Kitchener and the expedition was a material factor in the conduct of the campaign.

The Standing Army.

The Premier pointed out that the number of men authorized by the three votes of the present year for the regular army—not territorials—was 1,186,000. Of that total all but 100,000 already are in the service of the crown.

A committee on inquiry of all parties will be appointed to consider allowances to those dependent on soldiers.

On Monday next, said Mr. Asquith, David Lloyd George, chancellor of the exchequer, will lay before the House his financial proposal, including the question of a loan for which the government is going to ask the authority of the House on Tuesday. There will be a vote of credit of considerable dimensions and an additional vote for men.

Viscount Bryce, in the House of Lords referred appreciatively to the attitude of the American public opinion. The United States, he declared, was a country able to judge wisely the questions at issue. It was on moral grounds that its support was given, and this, therefore, was more highly prized.

The war, said Viscount Bryce, had become a struggle of ideals—the ideal of a military state resolved to dominate all neighboring countries and the ideal of peaceful communities dwelling in tranquility "the protection of trea-

BIG CROWDS HEAR FAMOUS MILITANT

Miss Christabel Pankhurst at Suffragist Meeting.

WILD DEMONSTRATIONS

Opera House More Than Filled and Overflow Meeting Held in Nearby Hall at Chattanooga at Final Session of Convention.

Chattanooga, Tenn., Nov. 11.—Miss Christabel Pankhurst, noted militant suffragist of England, aroused two large audiences to enthusiastic demonstrations by addresses here tonight at the closing session of the Southern Woman Suffrage Conference. Miss Pankhurst delivered a message of hope for the success of the woman suffrage cause in this country from the suffragists of England, and she made a stirring appeal to the Southern women for concentrated and immediate action to gain the ballot.

The crowd that gathered at the local theatre to hear Miss Pankhurst entirely filled the capacity of the playhouse and an overflow meeting was held in a nearby hall where the English militant also spoke. Prior to the evening meetings the business of the conference was concluded with the re-election of Miss Kate M. Gordon, of New Orleans, as president and the selection of other officers. An invitation to hold the next annual conference in Memphis, Tenn., was extended by delegates from that city. The selection of the next convention city was left to the executive board.

In her address tonight Miss Pankhurst said:

"The growing industrialism of the South inevitably leads to more and more women seeking an independent living. Under this condition, it is necessary, in order to maintain a good standard of wages, that women be able to fight their battles. If women are under-paid it is certain to have an effect in lowering men's wages. Men workers for their own advancement should help women get the vote to enable them to fight for better conditions and proper laws."

The Housing Problem.

The speaker asserted that women are better qualified than men to decide the housing problems that confront big industrial centers and argued they should be given the ballot to effect humanitarian reforms.

"But aside from domestic affairs," she asserted, "women are taking an increasing interest in international affairs. The time has passed when men had a monopoly in understanding international questions. The European war is an instance. Women's experience in the present conflict shows it is neither safe nor just to deprive them of their vote, because they have to bear the hardships of a war which they had no part in bringing on and which they had no power to avert.

"While you women are fighting for suffrage here, the suffragists of England are bending their efforts to aid their country in the terrible war. We suffragists are patriotic, but we also believe our country is right."

"Woman suffrage now is an established principle so far as the United States is concerned," declared Miss Pankhurst in closing.

"With the western half of the country already under the suffrage banner, it is impossible for any force to prevent the cause spreading throughout the entire country. You have two methods for gaining the ballot—through amendment of the state and the Federal constitutions. I understand the South prefers the states' rights plan, on lines suited to local needs.

"But I wish to appeal to you Southern women to get the vote quickly, for if the Southern states do not grant the ballot to women through state action, they will find that suffrage will be granted them through a Federal amendment and the Southern states will be obliged to accept."

Mrs. Mary Johnston, of Virginia, briefly discussed the progress of the suffrage movement in the South and urged the need of vigorous action by the women of the country to follow up the victories gained in the recent election.

Many of the delegates to the Southern conference departed late tonight for Nashville to attend the annual convention of the National American Woman Suffrage Association, which opens there tomorrow.

Other Business Postponed.

At the final business session today, the conference allowed to die in committee the proposed declaration of principles. Two paragraphs of this declaration—one affirming that suffrage is a state's right question and the other calling upon the Democratic party to include a woman suffrage plank in its next national platform—aroused spirited opposition.

Officers elected by the conference, in addition to Miss Gordon, include:

Vice President-at-Large—Miss Laura Clay, Lexington, Ky.

Secretaries—Mrs. John R. Parker, New Orleans, and Mrs. Nellie N. Somerville, Greenville, Miss.

Treasurer—Mrs. H. B. Bartlett, Louisiana.

Auditors—Mrs. C. E. Elliott, Maryland, and Mrs. D. P. Montague, Tennessee.

Among state vice presidents were:

North Carolina—Mrs. Archibald Henderson, Chapel Hill.

South Carolina—Mrs. M. T. Coleman, Abbeville.

Virginia—Mrs. John H. Lewis.

Honorary Vice President:—Mrs. O. H. P. Belmont, New York; Miss Mary Johnston, Virginia; Mrs. Helen Gardner, Washington, D. C.

CONSIDER RULES FOR NEW METHOD

Administration of Cotton Futures Law Discussed.

AT HEARINGS TODAY

Law Which Is Expected to Limit Gambling in Futures on Cotton Exchanges Throughout United States—Tentative Rules.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Regulations for administration of the new law to eliminate socalled gambling features from cotton futures contracts will be considered at hearings beginning here tomorrow before Secretary Houston and Treasury officials. Representatives of all branches of the cotton producing and marketing industry will be heard. The statute goes into effect February 18, 1915.

By prescribing a Federal tax of two cents a pound on all cotton sold for future delivery, except under contracts conforming to regulations of the Department of Agriculture, the law is expected to prevent speculation and manipulation of prices on cotton exchanges. Tentative regulations already have been framed and submitted to those interested, who now will be given an opportunity to criticise them.

Federal officials are anxious to have the entire machinery for administration of the law arranged well in advance of the effective date, so that the trade may become familiar with new conditions. Promulgation of standards for cotton to be accepted as legal "delivery" will form the basis of the principal discussion during the hearings.

A tentative set of standards prepared by the bureau of markets will be exhibited for information of cotton traders and for suggestions.

What They Provide.

The department's regulations, as tentatively framed, provide that future sales, in order to be exempt from taxation, must show:

The names and addresses of buyer and seller.

The number of bales sold, or the quantity, in pounds.

The date of delivery.

That delivery is to be made according to the "United States Standard Grades" to be promulgated by the Secretary of Agriculture.

That low grades of cotton, steady short staple coton can not be delivered in settlement of the contract.

That the seller shall give the buyer five days before delivery, a memorandum setting forth the grade and specially describing each bale of cotton to be delivered.

The regulations provide that the prohibitive tax of two cents a pound prescribed for contracts, not confronting with these stipulations, shall be paid by the purchase of stamps to be affixed to contract of sale.

Under the act no tax is imposed on spot cotton transactions, but the price of cotton for future delivery must be fixed by the price in spot markets to be designated by the Secretary of Agriculture. The designation of these markets has been left blank in the tentative regulations, and probably will be decided upon after the hearings.

The law also provides that disputes as to delivery of cotton shall be decided by the Secretary of Agriculture. To this purpose the regulations provide an elaborate machinery for examination of cotton delivered in disputed cases, collection of evidence and filing of complaints.

SUSPECTED CHECK FLASHER ATTEMPTS SUICIDE IN JAIL

Young Prisoner From Massachusetts Found Hanging at Raleigh.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—Herbert A. Locke, 20 years old, from Lynn, Mass., is recovering in the city jail here from an attempt to commit suicide early in the day by hanging himself, in apparent despondency over being arrested Tuesday evening as a suspected check flasher. The prison janitor found the young man hanging by his neck and black in the face. Whether he would have persisted to the death or not is not known, but he had every evidence of intention to end his life.

When arrested he had a check with the name of Dr. J. R. Rogers, of this city, forged on it. He had been reported to the police as a suspicious character hanging around the Rogers' residence. He says he came South seeking work.

RESERVE BOARD TELLS BANKS HOW TO OPERATE

Circular Issued Yesterday Defines the Scope of Business for New Institutions for First Few Months—Functions Are Limited for Present—Commercial Paper Described by the Board—Banks Open Monday.

Washington, Nov. 11.—The scope of the operations of the 12 Federal Reserve banks, to be opened for business next Monday, was defined for the first few months of their existence in a circular issued today by the Federal Reserve Board. For the present the banks will not exercise all functions given them by Congress. The board concurring with the bank directors and moderators indorsed this plan:

Acceptance of deposits of reserves from member banks.

Discount of bills of exchange and commercial paper.

Acceptance of deposits of checks drawn by member banks on any Reserve bank or member bank in a Reserve or Central Reserve City within their Federal Reserve districts.

Other powers may be called into play as the establishment of safe and efficient organisation permits.

In its circular the Board gave the long expected definition of commercial paper, which is to be the life blood of the new system, the basis for the new Federal Reserve currency, and the means through which the nation's circulating medium is expected to meet the expansions and contractions of trade and industry.

The rate of discount was not announced and probably will not be until Monday. It will be uniform in all banks.

The definition of commercial paper is broad and relies to a large degree upon the language of the currency act. The Board declined at the present time to discuss the question of double and single name commercial paper. It did make it clear, however, that it had a preference for the two name sort, and left no room for banks to doubt that it expected careful inquiry into one name paper presented for re-discount.

Changes Are Promised.

The circular discussed the conditions that have arisen here through the war and gave some insight into the economic changes which might be expected to result.

"It should be borne in mind," it said, "that although our exports are showing a gratifying increase, there is still a large cash balance due to European countries for which gold may be demanded and that a large quantity of American securities held abroad may be returned to the United States; while more than $300,000,000 emergency currency must be gradually retired. No one can estimate the duration of the war or predict what its effect will be on financial or commercial conditions when peace shall be restored. It is probable that at the end of the war interest rates in Europe will be higher than in the past and greater investment returns will be yielded. The tremendous destruction of property and waste of capital will not only check the flow of European savings to the United States, but may dispose foreign investors to return the securities they now hold. Lower money rates in this country would be likely to accentuate this tendency, while higher interest rates and large investment returns on our side would check it.

"The function of the Federal Reserve banks is, therefore, of a two-fold character. They should extend credit facilities, particularly where present abnormal conditions have created emergencies demanding prompt accommodations and on the other hand, they must protect the gold holdings of this country in order that such holdings may remain adequate to meet demands that may be made upon them.

"While the most acute stage of the recent financial emergency appears to have passed, the conditions in other countries make it necessary that the United States should organize and make available its own resources, in order that it may provide for its own needs and replace the facilities suddenly destroyed by the closing of so many of the accustomed channels of credit and trade."

Defines Commercial Paper.

In defining commercial paper the Board announced these basic principles:

"That no bill shall be admitted to rediscount by a Reserve bank the proceeds of which have been or are to be applied to a permanent investment.

"Maturities of discounted bills should be well distributed so that a Reserve bank should be in a position to liquidate one-third of all its investments within 30 days.

"Bills presented for re-discount should be 'essentially self-liquidating,' which, as have explained, means that they should represent some distinct step in the productive or distributive process and be of such character that it is reasonably sure they can be collected at maturity."

In addition, the board requires that such paper be indorsed by the member bank offering it for re-discount; that the indorser bank waive demand notice and protest; that such paper be issued or drawn for agricultural, industrial or commercial purposes or the proceeds of which have been so used; that if in the form of acceptances, they must be based on transactions involving the importation or exportation of goods, and have a maturity of not longer than three months. Acceptances must be endorsed by a member bank

HONOR MEMORY OF PRESIDENT'S WIFE

United Daughters of the Confederacy Pay Tribute.

OTHER RESOLUTIONS

Adopted to Memory of Southerners Who Have Passed During the Last Year, Among Them Mr. Cunningham of Nashville.

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 11.—Tribute was paid here today by the General Convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy to the memory of Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, wife of the President. Resolutions introduced by Mrs. James Britton Gant, of Jefferson City, Mo., and unanimously adopted characterised Mrs. Wilson as a model for American womanhood and as one to whom prominent position meant 'not an exaltation of self but an opportunity to be more useful and to help the greatest number."

The text of the resolutions follow in part:

"If he lives most who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best, then Mrs. Woodrow Wilson lived a life much longer than that counted by years, for her life was filled with all the dignity, grace and virtue that could be crowded into it. Prominent position meant to her, not an exaltation of self (she loved self least) but an opportunity to be more useful and to help the greatest number.

"She had a heart for humanity in which dwelt all that was pure, genuine and holy. Absolute loyalty was chief among her characteristics; her old friends were never forgotten and when she became 'the first lady of the land' her home was always open to them as of old. Mrs. Wilson was a believer in the high destiny of womanhood and taught her daughters that only the true, the beautiful and the good was worth while.

Aided the President.

"Mrs. Wilson entered into all the plans of her distinguished husband—to him she was a guiding star point-

TROOPS WILL NOT LEAVE VERA CRUZ

Wilson Awaits Further Advices From Mexico

BRYAN AT WHITE HOUSE

Secretary of State and Chief Executive Conferred for Several Hours Over Mexican Situation Last Night. No Announcement.

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan discussed for nearly three hours tonight the question of evacuation of Vera Cruz by the American forces. No announcement was made at the conclusion of the conference, but it was understood the President decided to await further advices tomorrow as to the political situation in Mexico.

The decree issued by General Carranza granting all the requests of the American government were carefully considered. Carranza granted amnesty to the Mexicans who served the American government during its occupation and ordered that taxes or customs paid to the American officers be not re-imposed. Inasmuch as the national convention at Aguas Calientes ordered Carranza to comply with the wishes of the American government in connection with these guarantees, the Washington government was confronted with the fact that its demands were acquiesced in by all factions in Mexico.

In official circles generally it was believed that while Wilson would order the evacuation he might wait a few days for an alignment of the various chiefs in the latest civil war. The American government is on record in diplomatic correspondence as promising the withdrawal of the troops when the guarantees it requested were complied with and persons conversant with the President's point of view believe he proposes to redeem this promise as soon as possible. It has been pointed out that the American garrison might be placed in an embarrassing situation if the forces controlled by Carranza and those of the convention carried on their conflict near the city of Vera Cruz, as the Washington government is desirous

INTEREST IN FAIR INCREASING DAILY

The Murchison Bank Building Crowded With Visitors.

LIST OF PRIZE WINNERS

Cotton and Educational Day Was Splendid Success—Address by Mr. T. E. Browne, of Raleigh—Program for Today.

PROGRAM TODAY

12 m.—Address by Mr. Hugh MacRae, of Wilmington, president Carolina Trucking & Development Company; subject, "Inter-Relations of City and Country."

3 p. m.—Address by Mr. H. C. McQueen, of Wilmington, president Murchison National Bank; subject, "Agricultural Credits."

Lectures will be given in large assembly room of Chamber of Commerce on seventh floor of Murchison building. Exhibits on sixth floor of same building.

The second day of the big fair now in progress on the sixth floor of the Murchison Bank building proved a record breaker in the size of the crowds that thronged the scene of the show from early morning until 10 o'clock last evening and in the great interest shown. Two days more remain in which the fair will be open and this will make it possible for many who have not had an opportunity to inspect the many splendid exhibits to do so today and tomorrow.

The enthusiasm of all who have seen the handsome display is such that a fair on a more elaborate scale than has heretofore been attempted is assured. Wilmington has demonstrated her ability to finance and get together a display that will compare favorably with that of any section of North Carolina and it is now a foregone conclusion that a permanent fair association will be formed to make this one of the truly big events of the entire eastern section of the State.

Cotton Day Observed.

Yesterday was cotton and educational day and, while the school children did not have the parade that had been planned, this did not militate in the least against the complete success of the occasion. The ladies in attendance upon the event last evening wore their "made of cotton" dresses and this was a concrete living demonstration of the fact that here in the Southland we grow not only the products of subsistence but the material from which as queenly gowns can be made as are found in any region of the earth.

Judges of the corn show and agricultural fair and also of the floral exhibit went over these displays yesterday afternoon and made their selection of what they considered the best exhibits in each line. This was not an easy matter in some instances, for there were so many to select from that it was hard to do justice to all with the limited number of prizes at their disposal.

Lecture at Noon.

An instructive lecture was made to the boys of the corn clubs in the large assembly room of the Chamber of Commerce yesterday at noon by Mr. T. E. Browne, of the State Department of Agriculture, in charge of the Boys' Corn Club work in this State. He was heard by a large audience with great interest as he told of the splendid work that the boys are doing and the great educational uplift that it has brought about. Mr. H. R. Freeman, of Wilson, district farm demonstrator, spoke briefly on his work.

Today at noon Mr. Hugh MacRae will make an address in the Chamber of Commerce and at 3 o'clock Mr. H. C. McQueen, president of the Murchison National Bank, will speak.

Following are the names of the prize winners for the different displays as awarded by the judges yesterday afternoon:

GREAT FUTURE IN SOUTHERN CLIMES

Surgeon General of U. S. Addresses Surgeons.

MALARIA ERADICATION

Rural Population of the South Must be Taught How to Clean Up Premises to Fight Against Disease—Fever Carriers.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 11.—Surgeon General W. C. Gorgas, U. S. A., who rid the Panama Canal Zone of malaria, believes the tropical countries of the world are about to undergo a great change in population.

"We are on the eve," he said, addressing the Southern Medical Association today, "of seeing the tropical zones settled by the white people of the Saxon race as we have it in the United States, because we know the white man can go there now. The great valleys of the Amason and the Congo will probably produce all the food needed by the world, if they are settled by white people. The European war will further change social and economic conditions and will result in a vast emigration into the tropical countries."

Col. Gorgas said that malaria was the most important disease to be combated in the sanitation of the tropics and in the southern portion of the temperate zones. He has seen a wonderful change for the better in the past 12 years and believes that in a few years malaria will be much less widespread than it is now. Rather than general measures for fighting the disease, he advocates instruction of the individual in cleaning up his premises and making conditions sanitary.

Education is Necessary.

This was the general theme of the various physicians, who spoke—that the rural population should be educated in the prevention of malaria which is so widespread in the South. Dr. H. R. Carter, of the United States public health service, attributed the increase of malaria carrying mosquitoes in the South to the increase of impounded water, which he believed should be put under control of boards of health.

Others who discussed malaria and its prevention were Dr. C. C. Bass, of New Orleans; L. O. Howard, of the Bureau of Entomology, Washington, and Dr. T. E. Wright, of Monroe, La.

Symposiums on blood diseases, hookworm, pellagra and surgery were held today and a large number of technical papers were read.

Tonight, Rupert H. Blue, surgeon general of the United States Public Health Service, told the association of the anti-plague campaign in New Orleans; George H. Simmons, general manager of the American Medical Association of Chicago, discussed the work of the council on pharmacy and chemistry, and W. L. Rodman, president of the American Medical Association, of Philadelphia, delivered an address on cancer.

DR. C. W. STILES SPEAKS.

Scores Southern Doctors for Neglecting Hookworm Cases.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 11.—A strong appeal for greater interest on the part of the medical profession of the South in the prevention and cure of hookworm was made by Dr. C. W. Stiles, of Wilmington, N. C., at the morning session of the Southern Medical Association convention today.

"The average Southern physician," said Dr. Stiles, "displays so little interest in this disease that he frequently makes no effort to diagnose the cases, and even when he does he is disinclined to give treatment. I have found cases of hookworm that were being treated for heart failure, tuberculosis and various intestinal troubles, whereas, if acquainted with the subject, the physician would have been able to make a correct diagnosis by the symptoms without the aid of a microscope".

In discussion of the subject, some of the doctors pointed out that they had found from experience in many cases that the patient was unwilling to submit to either examination or treatment. It was mentioned as a singular fact that the negro is practically immune to hookworm infection, the percentage of victims of the disease among the colored race being very small compared to that of the white race.

of maintaining its absolute neutrality as between the two factions.

It was suggested after tonight's conference that the Washington government might await some formal expression from the convention at Aguas Calientes as well as from General Eulalio Gutierrez whom it has selected as provisional president before withdrawing the American troops. General Gutierrez told American consular agents that as soon as he was sworn in he would issue a proclamation covering the points desired by the United States. As Gutierrez was to have taken the oath at the convention last night tomorrow's dispatches may bring word that he, too, has complied with the demands of the United States.

Even though the American forces are withdrawn, however, it is not believed that the $1,000,000 and upwards in customs duties collected by the American officers will be turned over by the Washington administration until a central government arises out of the present tangled situation. The convention having declared itself supreme, it is pointed out, probably would look with disfavor on the delivery by the American government of the funds to Carranza, whom it had ordered deposed.

Secretary Garrison told Secretary Bryan before the White House conference that the troops were ready to embark, all arrangements having been completed some time ago. Twenty-four hundred marines also will be taken away by the War Department's transports, as the navy has no adequate number of vessels to carry them away. The troops will go to Texas City and the marines probably to Pensacola, Fla., or Guantanamo.

The political situation in Mexico had not cleared according to the last official advices. General Carranza asked the convention for an extension of 15 days to discuss the question of a successor to whom he would deliver the executive power, but the request was denied.

Although officials had no complete advices, there were intimations that parleys were continuing by telegraph between the convention and Carranza.

VILLA-CARRANZA FACTIONS TO WAR

Word From Border Says Formal Action Taken.

ONE BATTLE IS FOUGHT

Villa Calls on the People to Rise Against Carranza, While Carranza Claims All the Generals Are With Him.

El Paso, Texas, Nov. 11.—War has been declared between the Carranza and Villa elements of the Constitutionalist army, according to advices received at Juarez tonight from officials of the conclave of chieftains at Aguas Calientes.

A preliminary battle has occurred at Leon, between Aguas Calientes and Queretaro, it was reported.

General Pablo Gonzales, the Carranza commander, has moved his forces from Queretaro north to Silao to meet the Villa advance.

General Manuel Chao, a Villa chieftain, departed today from Aguas Calientes with a strong column.

A message from official sources in Mexico City, given out today by Rafael Musquiz, the Carranza consul general to the United States, says:

"The first chief is at Cordoba. Most of the principal chiefs have declared in favor of Carranza. Villa has called upon the people to take arms. All the South and East is loyal to the first chief."

CARRANZA WILL STICK

Warns Guttierrez That Villa is Using Him as a Tool.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—In a last effort to maintain peace General Venustiano Carranza and General Eulalio Guttierrez, elected provisional president of Mexico by the Aguas Calientes peace convention, exchanged views by Telegraph last night. The text of the messages were made public today.

General Guttierrez in forms Carranza that he will disregard the stipulation limiting his tenure of office to 20 days unless the convention orders otherwise. He calls on General Carranza to resign in the interest of unity and peace, saying General Villa will deliver over his power on being informed of General Carranza's resignation.

General Carranza replying, says that he does not recognize the validity of General Guitterrez election. He says he never will resign until he is assured that he can tur nover the power to some stable government. He warns General Guttierrez that he is being used as the tool of Villa and asks Guttierrez to meet him to discuss the question.

FRIGHTENED AT CAPITAL.

Drunken Indian Soldiers Cause People to Think Palace Attacked.

Mexico City, Nov. 11.—A dash by a party of Yaqui Indians and soldiers in two automobiles through the principal downtown streets of the capital today, discharging their arms, caused the circulation of a report that the national palace was being attacked by Villa and Zapata followers.

The business section was thrown into a panic. A few shops were hurriedly closed and the streets were deserted. Officers were sent out by the war office to round u pthe disturbers.

The police finally arrested them but not until business throughout the city was nearly paralyzed.

ing to all that was high and holy. * * * * It has been said that Mrs. Woodrow Wilson gave her life for her country as surely as a soldier gives his on the field of battle, and as we, the Daughters of the Confederacy, 'honor the memory of those who served, and those who fell in the service of their county,' so we will enshrine her in our heart of hearts, the brightest jewel of Southern womanhood.

"Mrs. Wilson was born in Georgia, and formerly lived in Savannah. She was not a member of the Daughters of the Confederacy, although eligible, her father having been a chaplain in the Confederate army."

Other resolutions adopted today were to the memory of Sumner A. Cunningham, of Nashville, Tenn., editor of The Confederate Veteran, and Mrs. C. N. Goodlett, also of Nashville, who was known as "the mother of the United Daughters of the Confederacy."

Adoption of the memorial resolutions was followed by the reading of the reports of the general officers. Mrs. Daisy McLaurin Stevens, the President General, made her report at the morning session in which she recommended the raising of $5,000 for a window to be placed in the new American Red Cross building at Washington, which is planned as a memorial to the women of the War Between the States.

The president general also recommended the appointment of a committee on which North Carolina and Alabama shall have no representation, to determine definitely the designer of the Confederate flag.

MEMORIAL TO MRS. WILLARD

North Carolina Women Take Prominent Place in Convention.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Savannah, Ga., Nov. 11.—The 21st annual convention of the United Daughters of the Confederacy is marked by a patriotic spirit typical of the South. The addresses of welcome breathed of hospitality that knows no stint.

North Carolina occupies a seat among the mighty. Mrs. A. B. Hull, convention hostess, is a Wilmingtonian. Mrs. Josephus Daniels responded to the addresses. Miss Melba McCullers is a president's personal page; Mrs. Eugene Little, a member of the rules and regulations committee, and Mesdames I. W. Faison and F. M. Williams are general officers.

Mr. Hickman, president of the American Cotton Association, addressed the convention as to the wear-cotton movement.

The Daughters will put a memorial window to the Women of '61-'65 in the Red Cross building, to be erected in Washington, D. C.

Impressive memorial services were held in the afternoon to those who have passed away. A beautiful tribute was read to Mrs. Martin S. Willard.

MINOR LEAGUE SALARY LIMITS ARE REDUCED

Twenty Per Cent. Cut Made by Association.

Class A and B Leagues Accept New Limits While C and D Object—AA Class Make Private Agreements on Salary.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 11.—A reduction of 20 per cent. in the salary limit of minor league clubs was recommended today by the committee on constitutional revision of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues. It was adopted, so far as it concerns class A and class B leagues. Leagues in class AA were permitted to revise salary lists as fitted their convenience and leagues in the C and D class were given until tomorrow to agree on a limit. The committee's recommendation followed an address by August Herrmann, chairman of the National Commission, who declared organized baseball leagues should have salary limits in keeping with gate receipts.

Herrman told of his conferences with Federal League officials and declared that all his talks had been in an individual capacity and not as a representative either of the National Commission or of the Cincinnati baseball club.

A schedule of salary limits presented by Judge Kavanaugh, of Little Rock, chairman of the committee on constitutional revision suggested the following limits:

Class AA, $5,000 a month.
Class A, Southern Association, $3,200; Western League $2,800.
Class B, $2,000.
Class C, $1,200.
Class D, $1,000.

These limitations were put on the number of players:

Class AA, 28 for first 20 days and 15 during season.
Class A, 26 and 15.
Class B, 24 and 14.
Class C, 22 and 12.
Class D, 22 and 12.

Make Private Agreements.

Because the Federal League had clubs in two American Associations cities, representatives of that league objected to their salary arrangements being made public and were permitted to agree privately on what their limit should be.

The Canadian League has felt the war but officials said they expected to go through the season.

The Northwestern League also has been hit by the European war, it was said.

Several representatives of Class C and D leagues declared they would be unable to exist with the proposed salary limitation. The case went over until tomorrow. Classes A and B made no protest and the limitations were accepted.

There is considerable discussion outside the convention of what may result from further conferences between members of the National Commission and Federal League officials. It seemed to be the general impression that some changes would be made in the personnel of both the American Association and Western League.

The board of arbitration tomorrow will give out a list of awards on claims of clubs and players.

PRINCETON AND YALE READY FOR CONTEST.

Teams Finish Last Practice Before the Great Struggle of Saturday.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 11—The Princeton football team had its last hard workout this afternoon in preparation for the Yale game next Saturday. The practice was characterized by splendid spirit, the 'varsity rolling up a score of 21 to 0 against the scrub eleven in a 50-minute scrimmage.

Yale is Ready.

New Haven, Conn., Nov. 11.—The Yale football team today completed its work in preparation for the Princeton game. The 'varsity with its second string backs, scored three touchdowns against the scrubs. The squad will leave New Haven Friday.

TO PLAY GOLDSBORO

Local High School Eleven Goes There Tomorrow.

The local high school footfall squad will leave tomorrow morning for Goldsboro, where tomorrow afternoon they will play the strong eleven of the Goldsboro High Scohol. This will be the first game of the season between these two teams. A return will probably be played here later in the season.

The Wilmington Highs are confident of winning from the Goldsboro eleven tomorrow, though they say the latter team is a strong one. The Wilmington team has been practicing hard for the contest, and the players are in excellent condition.

and the total amount offered by any member bank shall not exceed one-half of its paid up capital and surplus. The aggregate of paper bearing the indorsement of any one person, corporation or firm, re-discounted for any one bank, shall not at any time exceed 10 per cent. of the unimpaired capital and surplus, this not to apply to bills of exchange drawn against actually existing values.

No Loans for Investments.

Paper drawn for trade in stocks and securities will not be acceptable, nor will such paper drawn for "merely investments," and the board interprets this phraseology of the law to exclude paper the proceeds of which may be used in investments in land, plant machinery, permanent improvements, or transaction of similar nature. The purchase of commodities for merely speculative purposes would constitute a "mere" investment in the eyes of the board, and must be excluded.

The Board also announced that for the present it had fixed 25 per cent. of a bank's capital as the limit up to which it may re-discount paper "for agricultural purposes or based on livestock" having not more than six months' maturity. This limit may be increased in agricultural districts in times of need.

The Board announced it hoped to establish a central credit bureau in which the financial records of big borrowing corporations and individuals will be kept.

PLAY FRIDAY NIGHT

"Miss Fearless & Co." to Be Presented by Local Talent.

"Miss Fearless & Co.," a play by local talent, will be the attraction at the Boys' Brigade armory Friday night and this promises to be one of the most interesting events of the season. Those engaged in getting up the play are rehearsing their parts each night and will have everything in readiness for the presentation. The case includes 70 persons from which it can be seen that the play will be given on an elaborate scale. A feature of the occasion will be the songs by a large chorus, composed of some of the best voices in the city.

Reserved seats will be 50 cents and general admission will be 35 cents. Reserved seats go on sale at Munson's today. Indications point to a record breaking attendance and those who want good seats should come early.

ANOTHER TRIAL FOR SOME OF AMENDMENTS

Legislature To be Asked to Re-Enact Bill for Election

Tax Amendment, Believed to Have Dragged Others to Defeat, to be Eliminated—Baptist State Convention.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—It is the general expectation here that the next General Assembly will, early in its session, be called upon to re-enact the bill for a vote on constitutional amendments with a view to again submitting a number of those defeated at the polls in the recent election to the electorate of the State, the plan being to eliminate the tax amendments and possibly some others on the ground that there were so many submitted this time as to make the propositions confusing and that the fight on the tax amendment really caused the defeat of all ten when real sentiment is not against numbers of them.

Most especially is there a desire to get before the people again the amendment as to restriction of legislation and relieving the Legislature of a mass of inconsequential legislation purely local. Some of those interested in renewed legislative effort for this and other amendments are already preparing the bills for introduction in the Legislature and providing for another vote two years hence.

Another Warehouse for Fayetteville.

A charter was issued today for the Vanstory Warehouse Co., of Fayetteville, capital $50,000 authorized and $5,000 subscribed by W. A. Vanstory and others for general warehousing business and issuing negotiable certificates of deposit for cotton.

Friends of R. E. Lumsden are urging him to get in the race for the Raleigh postmastership, which is getting to be a live topic here with the term of Willis G. Briggs, Republican encumbent, terminating in February. Lumsden has been in the mail service for 21 years, being now railway mail transfer clerk at the union station here. He is an old line Democrat who has the confidence of the party leaders generally and without having enemies in either wing of the party, according to conditions in his favor being urged by his friends. Then his efficiency and long experience in the mail service are urged as in line with the Wilson policy of advancing men from the ranks in the various branches of government service where possible. Others prominently mentioned for the postmastership are C. H. Anderson, retiring register of deeds; Bart Gatling, well known lawyer, and Editor E. E. Britton, of the News and Observer.

Preparing for Baptist Convention.

It is just 18 days until the Baptists of North Carolina gather in Raleigh for their annual convention with the First Baptist church as host, and Corresponding Secretary Livingston Johnson and others directing the affairs of the denomination in this State are bending every effort toward assuring reports to the convention that will show all financial obligations met. These are about 10 per cent greater than were undertaken and accomplished last year. The denomination is raising this year $50,000 for foreign missions; $35,000 for home missions, and $55,000 for State missions. In spite of the war conditions and financial stress, the work of raising these immense sums is really somewhat better advanced this year than was the work at the same period last year.

The convention, in session December 8 to 11, will include about 1,000 delegates. There are 2,000 churches with 246,000 members, and about 1,000 ministers. The convention is expected to be the largest North Carolina Baptists have ever held. Arrangements are being made to hold the sessions for one of the three days out at Wake Forest College, where the delegates can inspect their great denominational college and the new $50,000 church that is being completed to serve the college and the Wake Forest community. Rev. C. H. Durham is president of the convention, and Dr. C. E. Brewer is the recording secretary. The night sessions of the convention will be held in the city auditorium so as to accommodate the delegates and the general public, the church being able to scarcely more than accommodate the delegates to the convention.

WILSON LAD LOSES HIS LIFE.

Accidentally Shot While Hunting—Wilson Teachers Meet.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., Nov. 11.—While out hunting in Hominy swamp, near town Tuesday afternoon, Enniver Whitfield, the 14-year-old son of Mr. W. J. B. Whitfield, was accidentally shot, the entire load tearing a ragged hole in the leg. He died here this morning. Several boys were hunting together and it is impossible to ascertain how the accident occurred. One of the boys ran to the home of John W. Vick and telephoned for a physician. The injured boy was brought to a local hospital and placed under treatment.

Forty teachers of Wilson county who are to teach in the rural schools to begin in this county next week gathered in Wilson Tuesday for instruction. County Superintendent Charles L. Coon gave the teachers directions concerning the proper school records and Farm Demonstrator F. A. Brown addressed them on the importance of agriculture in the country schools and explained the relation of the farm demonstrative work to the county school.

A number of Wilson physicians attended the Fourth District Medical Association meeting at Goldsboro Tuesday. Drs. Dickinson and Herring, of Wilson, were on the programme.

Wilson, Nov. 11.—Authoritative reports from Farmville, give the loss sustained in the early morning fire of Monday at $40,000. Much of this loss is covered by insurance. Two warehouses were burned and considerable leaf tobacco, much of this the property of the American Tobacco Company.

SHIPMENTS ARE LARGER THAN COTTON RECEIPTS

Nearly Half of Exported Staple Went to England

Other Went to European Continent and Elsewhere, Including Small Shipment to Japan From the Pacific Coast.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Shipments of cotton from United States ports today were larger than receipts. Exports amounted to 61,660 bales while receipts were 57,433 bales.

Improvement in the demand was noted at several important points. Locally, spot prices were advanced 1-8c, middling 7 11-16, while Dallas rose 1-16 to 7 1-4 for middling. On October 24 that market stood at 6 cents for middling but since there has been a steady enhancement of values, amounting in all to a cent and a quarter a pound or $6.25 a bale.

Foreign exports today consisted of 22,644 bales shipped to English ports and 26,325 bales to ports on the continent of Europe and elsewhere. The latter total included 5,463 bales cleared from the Pacific coast for Japan. Shipments coastwise amounted to 12,697 bales. Foreign clearances thus far this week are 127,664 bales against 85,189 last week.

One result of the better demand for cotton from abroad has been the rapid rise in ocean freight rates, shippers paying today 85 cents a hundred pounds from here to Genoa.

RATES INCREASE

Ocean Freight From Galveston to Genoa is Increased.

Galveston, Texas, Nov. 11.—The ocean freight rates of cotton from Galveston to Genoa advanced today from 85 cents to $1 per 100 pounds. Rates on other commodities advanced in the rate.

PERSISTENT RUMOR OF STEMMERY FOR WARSAW.

Tobacco Prices Advance, Bidding Being Spirited—Other Notes.

Warsaw, N. C., Nov. 11.—Tuesday was a red letter day for the farmers who sold tobacco on the Warsaw market, for while the amount, 400,000 pounds, that was sold was not as large as has been offered some days, the farmers had taken advantage of the rainy weather on Monday to grade their tobacco, and the result was that a far superior grade was offered and brought some of the highest averages of the season, from 15 cents to 30 cents a pound. The bidding between the buyers was quite spirited, each putting forth every effort to secure the weed.

A persistent rumor is afloat here that efforts are being made to form a stock company to build a stemmery and large brick tobacco warehouse, and although it is a difficult matter to state what will be the outcome, it is known that the tobacco and warehouse men have advocated such an enterprise for some months, and now local capitalists have interested themselves in the project.

Reports received here from Clinton state that the flour and roller mill which was reported some time ago as being proposed is now a certainty and that it will be built in ample time to be ready for business when the next wheat crop is harvested.

The three rural carriers who perform service on the routes leading from this postoffice have received notice from the Postoffice Department that they will receive increases in salary beginning October 1st. The amount varies according to the weight of the mail carried and the length of the route, but all receive neat amounts.

SUPREME COURT O. K'S CROOM'S APPOINTMENT

To Directorate of Central Hospital for Insane

Verdict for $18,000 Damages Won by Engineer Against Norfolk Southern is Confirmed—Gilbert Vs. Shingle Company.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 11.—The Supreme Court delivered opinions this afternoon in 13 appeals, one of special note being R. H. Salisbury vs. State Hospital, involving the noted contest between R. H. Salisbury and A. B. Croom for the place on the board of directors of Central Hospital for Insane here, Salisbury being an appointee of Governor Kitchin and Croom of Governor Craig. The Supreme Court sustains the ruling by Judge Bond, in the Superior Court in favor of Croom as the appointee of Governor Craig, duly confirmed by the Senate.

Salisbury had been appointed by Governor Kitchin without Senate confirmation to the term resigned by J. A. Biggs, and the appointment was to 1917. Judge Hoke writes the opinion for the Supreme Court, taking the position that under the Constitution, Governor Kitchin could not appoint for the full term vacated by Biggs, but only until an appointment by Governor Craig, confirmed by the Senate, could be made, this being the appointment and confirmation that fell to Croom through Governor Craig.

In Ferrebee vs. Norfolk Southern Railway Company, from Wake, the Supreme Court affirms a verdict for $18,000 damages won by Engineer W. G. Ferrebee for injuries in an accident near Raleigh. The full list follows:

Hedrick vs. Western Union Telegraph Company, Forsyth, no error; Salisbury vs. State Hospital, Wake, affirmed; Boushall vs. Myatt, Wake, new trial; Ferrebee vs. Norfolk Southern Railroad, Wake, no error; Gilbert vs. Shingle Co., Brunswick, appeal dismissed; Horner School vs. Rogers, Granville, new trial; Hays vs. Wrenn, Granville, no error; Pruitt vs. Southern Railway, Rockingham, no error; Punnevent vs. Southern Railway, Caswell, affirmed; Oltmann vs. Williams, Orange, affirmed; Manley vs. Abernathy, Rockingham, new trial; Hall vs. Railway & Electric Co., Alamance, reversed; State vs. W. L. Davis, Davidson, no error.

Mr. Thomas was married soon after coming to Lumberton to Miss Claire Stainback, of Raleigh, and she and three little children survive him. He was a native of Lilesville. SAGE TEA TURNS GRAY HAIR DARK

It's Grandmother's Recipe to Bring Color, Lustre and Thickness to Hair When Faded, Streaked or Gray.

That beautiful, even shade of dark, glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, stretched and looks dry, wispy and scraggy, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur enhances its appearance a hundredfold.

Don't bother to prepare the tonic; you can get from any drug store a 50-cent bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness and lustre of your hair and remove dandruff, stop scalp itching and falling hair.

Everybody uses "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur, because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through the hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

STAMP TAX APPLICABLE TO LOAN ASSOCIATIONS

War Relief Fund May Be Increased Many Millions

Solicitor Johnson of the Treasury Says That All Transactions of Building and Loan Associations Subject to New Law.

Washington, Nov. 11.—All transactions of building and loan associations will be subject to stamp tax under the war revenue law, according to an opinion handed down today by Solicitor Johnson, of the Treasury. It is said more than 6,400 associations, having nearly 3,000,000 members and handling annually about $1,750,000,000, will be affected.

Unless the solicitor's ruling is protested and reversed by a higher authority collections from the revenue bill may be increased by it to several million dollars in excess of the estimates made by Congress.

The opinion differs from that of the commissioner of internal revenue and an assistant attorney general, who interpreted the revenue tax law of 1898. The language in both cases is held by loan association officers to be identical. No opinion has been asked in the present instance from the Department of Justice, but if protests are made, it is possible Secretary McAdoo will seek construction from the Attorney General.

WOMAN REFUSES OPERATION

Tells How She Was Saved by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Logansport, Ind. — "My baby was over a year old and I bloated till I was a burden to myself. I suffered from female trouble so I could not stand on my feet and I felt like millions of needles were pricking me all over. At last my doctor told me that all that would save me was an operation, but this I refused. I told my husband to get me a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I would try it before I would submit to any operation. He did so and I improved right along. I am now doing all my work and feeling fine.

"I hope other suffering women will try your Compound. I will recommend it to all I know." — Mrs. DANIEL D. B. DAVIS, 110 Franklin St., Logansport, Ind.

Since we guarantee that all testimonials which we publish are genuine, is it not fair to suppose that if Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has the virtue to help these women it will help any other woman who is suffering in a like manner?

If you are ill do not drag along until an operation is necessary, but at once take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 12, 1914.

War views are sent over to us as war news.

Come to Wilmington's corn show today and tomorrow.

It was 6 o'clock for provisional President Carranza on Tuesday evening.

Laws ought to be enforced against all classes alike—white or black, rich or poor.

The ten constitutional amendments seem to have been assassinated in the house of their friends.

He who lives to run away, Lives to fight another day; But if hunts he up a fight, He may have to say "G-o-o-d night."

Be sure to see the New Hanover Corn Show and Floral and Art Exhibition in the Murchison National Bank building. It is worth seeing.

Mexico has no government unless it be merely provisional, but between a provisional government and might, the returns will indicate that "might is right," whether things should turn out wrong or not.

King George thinks he is in command of the plucky British army in France. He commands about like the American President who is not even a Colonel, like most newspaper men who have been promoted by friends who hate to call them "capa".

Ordinarily our State Department endeavors to be discreet but it often makes public statements that it should keep to itself, because some of the views made public are more offensive to the belligerents that they are essential as news.

The Turks want to make it a "holy war." However, they should know that all sides to it consider it a perfectly holy war. The Turk's idea of war may be as justifiable as theirs but most everybody seems to dread theT urk brand, whether there is a distinction without a difference in it or not.

Says our old friend the Norfolk Virginian: "The Department of Agriculture may continue to preach the virtues of alum for pickling purposes, but your North Carolinian, native and to the manner born, will keep on using liquidized corn just the same." Dear Mabel, the juice process would best suit our Virginia friends, so long as they could furnish the juice.

General Eulalio Gutierrez did not want to be president of Mexico, but Villa put him under arrest and compelled him to accept or bite the dust. The general decided to "eat dirt" but not to bite the dust, which, interpreted, means that he accepted. We know one or two Americans who would like to be arrested and compelled to be President of this aggregation of states.

The Federal Reserve Banks will open next Monday. The New York and London cotton exchanges will open a few days afterwards. The Cotton Trading Corporation of the New York Cotton Exchange has been incorporated under an agreement to take over outstanding December contracts at 9 cents. It will be curious to observe whether the corporation will be a bear now and then or a bull occasionally, as it will not be in business for its health. Fifteen New York banks will finance and doubtless will control the corporation.

We are not a prophet nor the son of a prophet and do not pile up profit, but it is time to predict that our good old friend Carranza will have to take his clothes and go. When it is up to you to bow to the inevitable, the way to do it, old Top, is to place both feet together, military fashion, stand loftily erect, bend the left knee and at the same time throw the right foot just back of the left, with the right tip-toe fashion, thus enabling you to bow gracefully and maintain a perfectly dignified equilibrium. After it's all over with you, assume an air of insolence, indicating that you got the inevitable's nanny.

WAR DECLARED AGAINST WATERWAYS.

The National Rivers and Harbors Congress sends the Star a folder which contains the title page announcement that "War Has Been Declared Against the Waterways of the United States." We hope not, yet it must be admitted that strong opposition to waterway and harbor improvements comes from well intentioned but woefully delinquent and deluded Americans in and out of Congress. Like Saul, they think they are performing a duty and that they are out on a mission, but they will discover how badly they are mistaken when the scales fall from their eyes.

The really intelligent and patriotic American ought to wake up to the vital importance of deep harbors and improved waterways for the land and sea traffic of the United States. No man should allow himself to grope along unknowing or ignorant of the absolute necessity of efficient water and rail transportation in developing the commerce of this great nation. They ought to know by now, from the results of the war in Europe, that commerce is the basis of American prosperity. The breath of war blowed away our commerce and away went our dream of good times. The blow came upon the great ocean highway upon which is borne our exports and imports, and, as a consequence clearly discernable, our agricultural, industrial and commercial interests received as great a stroke of paralysis as if our interests had been hit by a pile driver with a blow practically equal to that of the earth.

Don't we see what happened? Don't we know it? Are we not the realizing victims of a catastrophe which broke down our commerce—our water transportation? Thus we have butted right into knowledge of the tremendous importance of commerce? The man who doesn't recognize that fact must be lamentably obtuse — the man at the ports and the man in the middle of the continent, all directly affected by commerce and the titanic blow it got. We ought to fall over ourselves—every knowing man in America—in "coming to" under such powerfully convincing circumstances.

It ought to make the opponents of waterway and ocean gateway improvements throw up both hands and acknowledge that they never knew it was loaded when they were firing pork barrel wads from time to time under the illusion that they were friends of economy. Economy needs to be saved from its friends all over America. That is what it needs. The war blow delivered to American commerce has affected every man, woman and child in America, and not an opponent of waterways and harbor improvements can dispute it. With our commerce knocked silly, all of us were wool gathering to beat the band. We were simply staggered, but we ought to get up on our feet and realize that without commerce America might as well have a thousand foot wall between us and prosperity.

Since we realize now the absolutely inseparable relation between commerce and prosperity, everybody ought to favor improved waterways and harbors, so absolutely essential to commerce. We know the immense value of efficient railways for land transportation. They are the distributors to and from America's ports, but they are only one factor in commerce. The other is water—just water—the great oceans with their port gateways for ships to come and get our products for export and bring us needful imports for every kind of endeavor. We can bank on commerce, as we see now, and our waterways and harbors are units of the system of arteries through which traffic comes and goes. Therefore, how can any intelligent American oppose any meritorious water project, and especially a national waterways policy like that which the National Rivers and Harbors Congress advocates so earnestly, patriotically and forcefully?

The next annual meeting of that great organization, truly "second in importance only to the Congress of the United States," will be held on the 9th, 10th and 11th of December, at the New Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C. The whole country from ocean to ocean ought to be represented at so important an American gathering, and especially should Wilmington be sure to have a delegation there. Governors of States and Territories, mayors of cities and towns, inland and by the sea, presidents of commercial organizations, and waterway associations have authority to appoint and accredit delegates.

Prompt attention is requested by Mr. S. A. Thompson, secretary of the Rivers and Harbors Congress, and we should say that at this eleventh annual meeting of the Congress a great number of American constructionists and believers in commerce should be sure to attend. All commercial America should mobilise if there is to be war on waterways.

Increased commerce means increased prosperity, and surely improved waterways and harbors will increase commerce. Don't we know that commerce absolutely depends on the water factor in transportation?

PRODUCERS, SHIPPERS AND CONSUMERS IN TOUCH

The four Southern Express Company booklets mentioned locally in Monday's Star show the methodical and effectual method adopted by that enterprising Southern carrier to get producers, shippers, dealers and consumers in touch with one another. Mr. J. W. Smith, the live agent of the company at Wilmington, has kindly placed in the editor's hands copies of each booklet and only a glimpse of them is required to impress their value to the trade in Southern food products.

The booklet referring to fruits and vegetables is particularly interesting to the large fruit and trucking region around Wilmington, the largest general truck growing and shipping region in the "Nation's Garden Spot," which is the South in general and Eastern North Carolina in particular. The booklet contains the names of growers, shippers and dealers in every variety of fruit and produce grown in this ideally adaptable trucking region.

The names and postoffice addresses of growers and dealers are contained in this booklet and it covers every Southern State from Maryland to Texas, wherever the Southern Express Company handles business. As an indication of the tremendous fruit and trucking industry, with Wilmington as its shipping point, eleven pages of the booklet are required to only three to four pages for other shipping points in various Southern States.

The booklet shows what an immense variety of North Carolina food products goes out of this productive State to 30,000,000 consumers in New York and all over the North as far as Canada.

Eastern North Carolina figures largely in this traffic, for it is so versatile in its productions and so near to America's greatest consuming centers, all so readily reached by the carriers which serve this unequalled region.

None of the American carriers are more enterprising and businesslike in the handling of business than the Southern Express Company. We are glad to commend it for its aim at efficiency and usefulness in distribution, which, after all, assures success to production. It would not make any difference how enormous was production if there were no means of moving it to the centers of consumption. There are two chief ends of this traffic—the producing and the consuming ends—and so far as the Southern Express Company is concerned it is leaving nothing undone to make both ends meets by means of its carrying efficiency and its efforts to make producers, shippers and dealers acquainted with each other along all lines.

The express company's booklets furnish the names of every first handler of every food product that comes from the land and sea throughout the South. Eastern North Carolina as an abundant and wondrous producer stands at the head of the list and one of its greatest advantages is the live express service which covers all parts of the region. This really is a constructive work which the express company is doing towards the greater development of this section. Richness of production and completeness of transportation will do to bank on.

While hustling around for business the Southern Express Company incidentally and logically becomes all sorts of a booster.

OUR CORN SHOW ATTRACTION

If people can come here from the North and West to see the New Hanover Corn Show, everybody within two hundred miles of Wilmington ought to come and see it today and tomorrow. The show is worth seeing and we should realize its constructive purpose and take the object lesson home with us.

There is a motive and purpose behind such an exhibit as that in which the Boys' Corn Club demonstrates the rich corn producing possibilities of Eastern North Carolina. At the Corn Show in Wilmington we see the results of the intelligent efforts of industrious men and boys, and it is here one gets in touch with their demonstrated methods.

We are brought face to face with our marvelous productive possibilities in corn growing—a new source of wealth when we go at it right. The facts are demonstrated before our eyes. We are face to face with realization of the profitableness of diversified agriculture.

Besides the great variety of agricultural exhibits showing the productive resourcefulness of this section, there are splendid floral and art exhibits which combine to make the whole show attractive and interesting.

THE MEXICAN SITUATION ALWAYS WITH US.

Interventionists in the United States ought to have enough horse sense to know that until the Mexicans wear each other out and settle their contentions among themselves, American intervention would be about as futile as a solution as a vain attempt to keep a hive of bees from swarming and settling in accordance with the bee idea.

Republican administrations used to try to intervene in the South's racial, social and civic affairs, but the South settled its own affairs in its own way, and, therefore, they are settled. Old fashioned troops at the polls, punktiferous force bills, "foreign interference", and partisan inter-meddling with Southern ideas and standards didn't and couldn't have any ultimate or permanent effect in preventing the South from having its own way of settling its own affairs. Southern brains and determination settled them.

Something is radically wrong in Mexico and until the Mexicans eradicate it and possibly eradicate each other so long as there is a malcontent and reactionary force to be dealt with, intervention by the United States would only hold good till the American army would leave. Then the Mexican bee hive would again be in an uproar and recurrently so till they are let alone to settle their own affairs by settling each other's hash.

Certain persistent interventionists in this country, notably newspapers and pop-skull politicians, continue to agitate for American interference in Mexico. We may have to intervene, but it is to be hoped the Mexicans won't invite it by unfriendly acts toward this country or its forces, aiming at doing police duty on a continuously disturbed beat. Even if we intervene because we have to do so, how long would intervention make Mexicans conduct themselves according to our ideals and standards? Most any ten-year-old boy knows that it would be only so long as American troops remained in Mexico.

The Mexicans seem bent on having one more round over their own peculiar civic and social affairs, and they are likely to settle them this time by annihilating chaos in accordance with the Greaser standard. The Mexican embroglio may seem to last a long time, and it is tiresome and vexing to us, but revolutions in the sister Republic but indicate a process of evolution in their national sovereignty. We might interfere with the process, but if it takes a thousand years the Mexicans themselves will have to furnish the solution in a cataclysm involving the use of powder and brains. A militaristic foray into Mexico might be punitive but never a solution.

The real news from the seat of war is that it is a long way from Tipperary, Paris, Berlin, Vienna and Petrograd.

CURRENT COMMENT.

All this talk about the "machine" killing the amendments is silly, in our opinion. Leaders of the socalled "machines" in both parties were supporting them. The truth is the voters of North Carolina clubbed them and clubbed them good and strong.—Charlotte News.

Work is progressing rapidly on the many additions to and one the new shops of the Atlantic Coast Line at this place. A large force of hands are at work putting the finishing touches on the carpenter, blacksmith, planing mill, round house and the new cinder and coal pits.—Florence Times.

We are not altogether sorry to see "Uncle Joe" Cannon return to Congress. He is undoubtedly a wicked old Indian politically, and we agree with Mr. Roosevelt that he should be kept in the backwoods and not allowed in civilized society. But he is such a smart old rascal, such a picturesque bandit, that Congressional life has lost much by his banishment. We at least know what he stands for. There are no concealments and no compromise in his makeup. And there is a certain rough and direct Americanism about him that is refreshing after too much sentimental eau de cologne. No pious progressive can look on him without a shudder. He is an open enemy of all the righteousness of modern uplift. But he is very human and very entertaining, and in spite of ourselves we can't help but feel a sneaking fondness for the personality, though not the politics, of the prince of straightout standpatters.—Baltimore Sun.

MANY WAYS TO HELP.

To the Editor of The Star:

The co-operation of our fellow countrymen is asked to alleviate the sufferings of countless thousands of Belgians during the coming winter. It is a tremendous task. The Dollar Christmas Fund of which I am treasurer and which is backed by many well known public men is working with other organizations to avert starvation which threatens many. It is only by widespread and generous support and by personal appeals through the press that we can hope to achieve success. Today hundreds of thousands of Belgians are homeless and penniless refugees. Thousands of civilians have met a miserable death. The whole apparatus of economic life in field or factory or office has been wrecked and ruined so that the future of Belgium is altogether beyond prophecy.

There are many ways in which you can help to avert the agony of suffering which confronts helpless Belgians during the coming winter. You can send a donation to our fund or you can apply to our secretary, Percy Bullen, 66 Broadway, New York, for a collecting card. He will be glad to issue same to any responsible person enclosing personal references. Churches, chapels, clubs and societies can assist by writing for our collecting list. Entertainment committees and places of recreation may render great help by sending us the proceeds of benefit performances. In all these ways friends everywhere are assisting nobly.

All the money received will be cabled to Europe before December 20th. It is our ambition to see that no necessitous Belgian man, woman or child is destitute of food or shelter at Christmas.

Many heads of families have promised to "pass the plate" for the Homeless Belgians before dinner on Thanksgiving Day. A few cents from each person would form a valuable contribution from many households. Such a gift will surely be remembered by the beneficiaries long after the war has ceased and no man's Thanksgiving or Christmas day will be the less happy because in some cases the gift may entail some measure of personal sacrifice.

Let us remember that no little nation in the world's long history has been more grievously stricken, yet no people can raise their heads more proudly from the dust. The crown of thorns is still a crown!

Help us as best you can and please help quickly. "Belgian needs are appalling" says a cablegram I have received from London today, "and conditions baffle description."

Yours very truly,

CITY MAY PURCHASE PROPERTY FOR WELL

Committee To Get Definite Proposition From Mr. Worth

Matter Discussed at Weekly Meeting of City Council Yesterday—Few Other Topics Came Before the Body.

Brevity and harmony marked the weekly meeting of City Council yesterday morning, the session lasting little more than half an hour, and with the exception of a discussion of the matter of sinking a deep well on private property, few matters outside of routine were taken up.

Mayor Moore presided and only three members were present, Councilmen Loughlin, Merritt and Wood. The city clerk and treasurer and the city attorney were present.

The deep well discussion came up when Mayor Moore presented a communication from Mr. S. J. Ellis, a citizen and property owner, protesting against the city paying out any money for placing a deep well on private property and serving notice that if this was done he would, as a taxpayer, seek redress through the courts. His communication had reference to the deep well which it is proposed to sink on the property of Mr. W. E. Worth, who is superintending the boring of experimental deep wells for City Council, Councilman Wood, the champion of the deep well idea, made a statement about the matter.

Mr. Wood declared that when the two small wells sunk on the city's property near the city stables and the incinerator plant were bored, analysis showed that the water was not suitable for drinking purposes, and that he had suggested to Mr. Worth that a larger well be sunk on his property nearby, where a private well is already furnishing a supply of pure and desirable water. Mr. Worth had agreed to this, he said, and had told him that if the well proved satisfactory he would be willing to let a committee of disinterested citizens fix the price of the land needed by the city. Mr. Wood said that the city would have to go on private property unless the wells were bored at Greenfield, and that this location was so far away from the pumping plant that it would cost more to lay the pipes than it would to purchase land elsewhere. Mr. George Hutaff, he said, had offered the city the use of property near Love Grove for deep well purposes, but this, too, was so far out that the cost of piping would be prohibitive.

Mayor Moore told the members of Council that he was against the proposition of sinking deep wells on private property. He thought that it was entirely unnecessary when they could be sunk in the public streets just as well.

However, on suggestion of Councilmen Merritt and Loughlin, it was finally decided to have Mr. Worth write a letter to Council, stating that in the event the well proved satisfactory he would sell the property on which it will be located to the city at a price to be fixed by a committee of disinterested citizens; and if it did not prove satisfactory, there would be no charge to the city. Councilmen Wood and Loughlin were named as a committee to take this up with Mr. Worth.

Mr. J. H. Hinton, proprietor of the Orton Hotel, asked that Council make him an allowance on his monthly water bill at the hotel. He stated that during the winter his bill was from $30 to $35 a month, while in the summer it ran from $50 to $85 a month. This increase was caused solely by the use of water at the hotel by excursionists and others not guests of the hotel, who go there because there is no public place available. It was the opinion of Council that Mr. Hinton's request was reasonable, and the matter was referred to Councilman Loughlin to adjust.

Mr. W. D. McMillan gave Council some figures as to the cost of maintaining a small roadster for the superintendent of streets, as against the cost of feeding the two horses now used by the superintendent. He said that he could furnish the car at a price slightly above what the two horses and the buggy would sell for, and that the saving in operating expenses would more than offset the difference in the course one one year, to say nothing of the increased efficiency of the department that would result from the use of an automobile. The proposition was referred to Councilman Merritt to investigate and report back.

A communication was received from the Board of Trustees of the public library, giving the names of several patrons who have books which they have failed to return, and asking Council to take action in the matter. The Chief of Police was instructed to see the delinquents and request them to return the books.

A request from Mr. W. H. McEachern for a license to conduct a meat market at Front and Market streets was granted, subject to compliance with the requirements of the city ordinances and the approval of the health department.

Councilman Merritt reported a dangerous drop in the elevation of a new sidewalk at Third and Castle streets, where it joins an old sidewalk. The matter was referred to the city engineer. He also reported that the Clark Lynch Lumber Company wished to obtain two cars of gravel from the city, and stated that if there was no objection he would let them have it at the market price. They wanted it to improve their lumber yard.

A physician's bill for treating an employe of the water and sewerage department for an injury sustained in a fall caused by a hole in the street was approved.

A communication was received from the First Presbyterian church, stating that extensive repairs to the church had recently been completed, and that the clock in the church tower, which has not been used for several years, would be placed in order again if the city would bear the expense of maintaining it, which would be about $50 a year. Bids will be asked for.

City Attorney E. K. Bryan asked and was granted a ten days' leave of absence beginning the latter part of this week or the first of next.

City Engineer Pillett, in a letter to Council, stated that the proposed change of drain pipes at Second and Campbell streets would not divert water from the street to the railroad yards there. The City Attorney thought that if the water is not diverted from its natural course, the city is not liable for any part of the cost of the new drain, but as there may be some unusual features attached to the matter, the city engineer and city attorney were appointed a committee to confer with George H. Elliott, Esq., assistant general counsel for the A. C. L.

TO RENDER DECISION TODAY

Recorder Hears Evidence in Case Against Mr. Jos. A. Price, Secretary Independent Club.

After hearing the evidence introduced by the State in the case against Mr. Joseph A. Price, who is charged with aiding, abetting and assisting in the maintenance of the Independent Club, an organization alleged to have distributed intoxicating liquors illegally, Recorder John J. Furlong yesterday announced that he would render his decision this morning. Attorneys for the defendant did not introduce any evidence nor make any argument, though it was intimated that, in the event that their client was convicted of the charge resting against him, they would appeal to the higher courts.

Five witnesses were examined by the State, the first of these being Mr. C. C. Mattocks, who explained the method by which he said members of the club secure their beer. According to his testimony the member purchased a postoffice money order for $2.11, which he turned over to Mr. Price, and signed an order for a keg of beer. The witness was of the opinion that Mr. Price sent the postoffice order to the brewery.

After a few days had elapsed, the witness said, the member would receive a notification from the transportation office that there was a package for him and would then go to the office and sign a receipt for the keg of beer and instruct the carrier to deliver it to the Independent Ice Company. The member could then purchase a ticket from Mr. Price for $1.89, the witness said, which contained places for 100 punches, each of these being for one glass of beer.

Mr. Dan Ruark testified that there was some disorder around the club's quarters on Saturday night and declared that 47 beer kegs had been removed at one time.

An effort was made by the State to prove that a member purchasing a ticket could get beer from the club's quarters at any time, regardless of whether or not it came from his particular keg and one witness said that he never knew whose keg his beer was coming from.

Mr. Price was represented by B. G. Empie, P. D. Satchwell, W. F. Jones and Louis Goodman, Esqs., and W. P. Stacy, Esq., assisted Solicitor Peschau in the prosecution for the State.

TRAINS DISCONTINUED.

Nos. 90 and 91 Between Wilmington and Goldsboro—Other Changes.

Effective this morning, Trains 90 and 91, on the Atlantic Coast Line, between Wilmington and Goldsboro, leaving this city at 3:40 A. M., and arriving at 1:15 A. M., have been discontinued by permission of the Corporation Commission, except for the week-end trip, arriving at Wilmington at 1:15 Sunday mornings and leaving Mondays at 3:40 A. M.

The discontinuance of this train will be followed on Sunday, November 22nd, by an earlier leaving train time of No. 48 northbound which now leaves at 8:20 o'clock, the new hour to be 7:30 A. M. Patrons of The Star on the W. & W., between Wilmington and Goldsboro, will, therefore, secure an even better delivery of mail than they are now receiving in that No. 90 and 91 had no mail clerk and papers had to be dispatched by freight to Goldsboro and worked back to the various stations on the train from the north. As soon as the hour of departure of No. 48 is changed a much better service will result.

Since the discontinuance of the early train on the Newbern branch of the Coast Line three days a week, patrons of the morning paper have been inconvenienced by late deliveries, but this will be adjusted in a few days by sending out mail alternate days on the local freight from Wilmington on the train which now leaves at 6:30 A. M., but which will shortly be changed to leave at 5:45 A. M., giving an earlier delivery, it is hoped.

The Atlantic Coast Line in a readjustment of its schedules out of Wilmington because of the war conditions has been very considerate of the people along its lines and have co-operated with this paper in every way possible, in securing the best mail deliveries. As soon as the department approves the handling of the mail as indicated on the Newbern branch of the Coast Line, patrons on the W. & N. branch may expect a much better service.

NEW FRUIT STORE

Wilmington Is Made Distributing Point for Rose Cliff Farm.

"The Orchard" is the name of a new fruit store which has been opened at No. 206 Princess street in one of the store rooms of the new Pythian building. The new store, which is in charge of Mr. E. C. Myers will sell only the products of the well known Rose Cliff Fruit farm of Waynesboro, Va., the principal product of which is apples, a chain of stores handling the produce of this farm have been established through the South, and Wilmington has been made the distributing point for this section.

Arrangements have been with the Independent Ice Company to store apples and they will be sent from Wilmington to stores in Florence, S. C., and Waycross, Ga. The Rose Cliff farm also has apples stored at Montgomery, Ala. Its entire output of apples is 25,000 barrels a year.

Mr. Myers says that he is going to sell good apples at a reasonable price and that he believes that the demand for this fruit in Wilmington can be greatly increased. He will sell apples not only by the wholesale, but will also retail them at reasonable prices. In addition to apples he will put on the local market pure unfermented apple juice put up in bottles, and also tomatoes and other canned vegetables which are from the Rose Cliff farm.

WANT SENTENCE COMMUTED

Effort Being Made to Save Life of William Lewis, Colored.

J. Bayard Clark, Esq., of Elizabethtown, was in Wilmington yesterday to secure data with reference to the trial of William Lewis, colored, recently convicted in Superior court here of the murder of his wife and sentenced to die in the electric chair. A petition asking Gov. Craig to commute the sentence to life imprisonment has been circulated and is said to have been signed by all the jurors, who sat on the jury that convicted the negro of the crime.

Lewis formerly lived in Elizabethtown and Judge C. C. Lyon, of that place, who has known him since his boyhood, has written a letter to Governor Craig, asking that he commute the sentence.

W. J. Bellamy, Esq., of this city, is associated with Mr. Clark as attorney for the negro.

ANNUAL MEETING OF DISTRICT ODD FELLOWS

Convention Here Yesterday Was Well Attended

Whiteville Chosen as Next Meeting Place—State Officials Were in Attendance—Officers Elected for Ensuing Year.

Marked by a splendid attendance and with addresses by Grand Master W. F. Evans, of Greenville, N. C., and Grand Secretary B. H. Woodell, of Raleigh, as features, the annual convention of the Odd Fellows of the Sixth District of North Carolina was held in the Odd Fellows hall at Third and Princess streets yesterday afternoon and last evening. The afternoon session was a business meeting, while the night session was of an informal nature and in addition to the delegates and local members of the order, was largely attended by friends of the Odd Fellows.

Whiteville was chosen as the place of meeting for the next convention, and officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:

President—T. G. Landen, Wilmington.

Vice President—J. A. Tudor, Boardman.

Secretary—M. C. Guthrie, Southport.

Treasurer—Dr. I. N. Brown, Burgaw.

Marshal—John Lamb, Wallace.

Sentinel—S. A. Matthews, Wilmington.

The convention was called to order yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, and following the opening ode and prayer by the chaplain, Mr. S. A. Matthews, Mayor F. H. Moore delivered a most cordial address of welcome in his usual eloquent and happy style. The response was made by Sheriff J. T. Best, of Columbus county, District President.

Following the formal organization of the convention, the statistical reports from each of the lodges of the district for the previous six months were received, showing that the order has flourished in a most gratifying manner during this period.

A discussion of a number of pertinent and interesting subjects followed. The question, "Is there any objection to the Club Plan? If so, what?" was discussed by W. L. Smith, Esq., of Cape Fear Lodge, No. 2; F. W. Brown, Burgaw Lodge, No. 243, and Grand Secretary B. H. Woodell. "The Most Practical Means of Increasing Attendance," was discussed by M. C. Guthrie, of Atlantic Lodge No. 43, and John Lamb, of Orion Lodge No. 67. Fitzhugh Whitfield, of Clinton Lodge No. 124, and S. A. Matthews, of Hanover Lodge No. 145, spoke on the subject, "How to Develop a Good Degree Team." "How to Make the Bond Between Odd Fellows Stronger," was discussed by Mr. Slossburn, of Goodwill Lodge No. 192, and J. W. Lamb, of Warsaw Lodge No. 203. "Why Are We Odd Fellows?" was explained by J. A. Tudor, of Boardman Lodge, which, by the way, is the youngest and one of the most enthusiastic lodges in the district.

After the selection of the next meeting place, the invitation of Columbus Lodge No. 27, of Whiteville, being accepted, and the election of officers, the session adjourned.

The night session opened at 8 o'clock. Music was furnished by St. Andrew's Harmony Orchestra, composed of Misses Edna Lanier, Mary Belle King, Elizabeth McDougall, Isabel McDougall, Annabel Campbell and Mr. Melzer Pearsall. Numbers on the programme of especial interest included a selection by a quartette composed of Messrs. W. O. Southerland, Bert Jones, F. W. Tremain and Wm. Kamer; an enjoyable reading by Miss Sallie Oldham; vocal solos by Messrs. F. W. Tremain and Bert Jones, and last, but not least, a hilarious comedy sketch, entitled, "A Few Minutes of Fun", by Mr. Geo. T. Hewlett.

Grand Master Evans was introduced by Mr. Marcus Jacobi, and he made a most interesting and instructive address. One fact he stressed was that an impression seemed to prevail in certain quarters that the State of North Carolina contributed to the support of the Odd Fellows' Orphan Home at Goldsboro. He pointed out that this was a mistake, and that the State did not even help to educate the orphans there.

He was followed by Grand Secretary Woodell, of Raleigh, who also made a most entertaining talk. Mr. Woodell will remain over in Wilmington today, and will deliver an address to the Odd Fellows of the city at the meeting of Wilmington Lodge this evening. All local Odd Fellows are urged to attend.

Delicious refreshments were served before the convention came to a formal close.

SUFFERED TWENTY-ONE YEARS ---FINALLY FOUND RELIEF

Having suffered for twenty-one years with a pain in my side, I finally have found relief in Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root. Injections of morphine were my only relief for short periods of time. I became so sick that I had to undergo a surgical operation in New Orleans, which benefited me for two years. When the same pain came back one day I was so sick that I gave up hopes of living. A friend advised me to try your Swamp-Root and I at once commenced using it. The first bottle did me so much good that I purchased two more bottles. I am now on my second bottle and am feeling like a new woman. I passed a gravel stone as large as a big red bean and several small ones. I have not had the least feeling of pain since taking your Swamp-Root and I feel it my duty to recommend this great medicine to all suffering humanity. Gratefully yours,

MRS. JOSEPH CONSTANCE,
Rapides Par. Echo, La.

Personally appeared before me, this 15th day of July, 1911, Mrs. Joseph Constance, who subscribed the above statement and made oath that the same is true in substance and in fact.

WM. MORROW, Notary Public.

PRETTY HOME WEDDING YESTERDAY AFTERNOON.

A pretty home wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Fleet, No. 401 South Fifth street, yesterday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when their daughter, Miss Katie Cornwall Fleet, was given in marriage to Mr. Marvin MacSwain Sellers, of Latta, S. C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of Fifth Street Methodist church.

The affair was very simple and quiet, only a few invited guests being present. Mrs. Howard B. Branch played the wedding music. There were but two attendants, these being Miss Camille Fleet, sister of the bride, who was maid of honor, and Mr. C. L. Bethea, who was best man.

The home was beautifully decorated for the occasion, the color scheme being an attractive blend of wisteria and yellow.

The bride was gowned in an attractive taupe traveling suit with hat and gloves to match, and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. The maid of honor was dressed in a creation of crepe meteor and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums.

Following the ceremony a reception was given in honor of the bridal party. Mrs. H. S. McGirt and Miss Carlotte Fleet received at the door. Mr. and Mrs. Sellers left on the 3:45 train for Latta, S. C., where they will make their home.

FARRAR-GARDNER WEDDING AT FIFTH STREET CHURCH.

A wedding of interest to many friends in Wilmington and elsewhere was celo'clock, at Fifth Street Methodist church, when Miss Hattie Camille Gardner, daughter of Mrs. Carrie Gardner, became the bride of Mr. George Thomas Farrar, the ceremony being performed by Rev. G. T. Adams, pastor of the church.

Miss Elizabeth Gardner, sister of the bride, was maid of honor, and Mrs. A. M. Carpenter and Mrs. H. W. Keen were the dames of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Russell, of Jonesboro, and Miss Varina Yopp, of this city. Mr. James Farrar, brother of the groom, was best man and the groomsmen were Messrs. C. Maglenn, Sidney Jones, Frank King, Jr., and Aaron Goldberg.

Master Eldridge Dosher, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Dosher, and little Miss Elizabeth Schaefer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Schaefer, were the flower children. The ring bearer was little Miss Annell Tenney, of Florence, S. C.

The bride was gowned in a lovely creation of white charmeuse, trimmed with shadow lace and pearl passementrie and carried a shower bouquet of bride roses and lilies of the valley. Her traveling gown was a taupe coat suit.

The maid of honor was dressed in a lavender crepe meteor, trimmed with shadow lace, and carried a bouquet of yellow chrysanthemums. The dames of honor were attired in lavender crepe de chine with gold trimmings and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. The bridesmaids were dressed in yellow satin with chiffon overdresses and carried bouquets of yellow chrysanthemums. All the lady attendants wore black picture hats.

The bride was accompanied to the altar and given away by her brother, Mr. H. R. Gardner. Prof. Geo. L. Johnson presided at the organ and skilfully rendered the Bridal Chorus from Lohengrin" as the bridal party entered the church. Mendelssohn's wedding march was used for the recessional.

Both bride and groom are very popular in Wilmington and the church was filled with friends. The edifice was beautifully decorated with autumn flowers, the color scheme both at the church and at the home being lavender and yellow.

THEATRICAL

George Primrose and George Wilson, ("Waltz Me Again"), formerly of Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West, have just joined hands again this season, after a separation of 20 years, and are presenting a big spectacular production of 20th century minstrels.

Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West set a standard of excellence in this eminently distinctive American form of entertainment that has ever been the goal of minstrel producers. Their names have endured time, and today, this famous combination of yesteryears is affectionately referred to by theatre-goers of a decade ago.

The announcement that George Primrose (he of the velvet feet) and George ("Waltz Me Again") Wilson, the surviving members of the famous Barlow, Wilson, Primrose and West show will appear as co-stars, will be received by many with satisfaction.

They will be supported by a company of 50 singers, dancers, instrumentalists and comedians. Their scenic production is said to be the most elaborate ever seen with a similar organization. The Primrose and Wilson minstrels will give performance at Academy of Music on next Wednesday, matinee and night. A big spectacular street parade will be given on the day of the performance at noon, at which time Messrs. Primrose and Wilson will be seen.

Another Great 5-Cent Show—Grand.

Without doubt the past three days have been three of the biggest and greatest in the history of the popular Grand Theatre. That, too, in spite of the cold weather. However, folks know that it is always as warm as a toast and as bright as a new dollar at their favorite Grand. Therefore the weather makes no nevermind. The Grand will today continue its great speed and present today one of the biggest 5-cent shows ever flashed on a screen. In fact, anywhere else it would be a 10-cent show, but the Grand has started in to revolutionize things in the movie realm in Wilmington and is going to do it. Today, for the small price of 5 cents, three of the biggest films, and one of them a special two-reeler, will be offered. The special feature for today is the Vitagraph's "The Royal West," in two big parts, and such popular screen folks as Sidney and S. Ranking Drew, Jane Morrow and Courtland VanDeusen, will appear in the cast. It is a gigantic spectacle, in which cowboys, Indians and ranchers play a vital part. It is what might be termed a dramatic laugh film, and it is a rouser. Don't miss glimpsing it on the big Grand screen today. There is another whopping big laugh film on today in "How Clarence Got His". It is the story of a lady killer, and it is something rousingly mirthful.

Of course, there is a great dramatic on today, one that will reach every heart and thrill it. Lubin's greatest dramatic success, "The Greater Love," is the big feature.

Change at the Victoria.

Today rolls around the regular midweek change of show at the popular, handsome Victoria Theatre, and it is going to be a hummer. Both the big shows and the wartime prices have struck the popular fancy of Wilmington folks and they are showing their appreciation in most substantial way. And they should, because the Victoria is offering the pick of the Keith Vaudeville that travels over the larger circuit of the South and at the lowest prices charged anywhere—10 and 15 cents for night and 10 cents for matinee.

The bill opening today is strong in every way, but it is especially featured by Booth and Horward, in a rousingly funny act. Miss Ida Laura Booth is the principal member of this team and she claims to be the daughter of the famous actor, John Wilkes Booth, who assassinated President Lincoln. Miss Booth speaks of this incident as the tragedy of her life. She is not only a clever actress, inheriting the talent of her father, but is an interesting talker.

Next in importance to this act will be Pierlert and Schofield, who are two of the funniest folks on the stage and they will add immensely to the show. The well known comedian, Harry Sydell, is also a star of the new bill and will tickle every one. In addition there will be two reels of the latest pictures today.

The "Incomparable Movies."

"The Incomparable Movies" rise to heights seldom attained by any motion picture programme, and impossible with anything except the great Universal bill with today's rousing big show consisting of five full reels—two big double reel special releases and a full single reel dramatic feature well able to stand at the head of any programme.

No less than five of motion picture's greatest stars grace today's big bill at the Bijou—the place of solid comfort and perfect enjoyment. They are Pearl White, Murdock MacQuarrie, Agnes Vernon, Billie Ritchie and Gertrude Selby. Some lay-out this, and you can confidently expect the biggest and best show of the week.

"The Perils of Pauline" heads the bill today with the 16th episode of this stirring and startling motion picture serial, in which Miss Pearl White has gained world fame by her portrayal of Pauline. It's in two full reels and is undoubtedly the most startlingly realistic and strongly dramatic episode yet.

Then comes a new brand of pictures—from a company made up of the biggest comedy artists of the Universal organization, who will produce nothing but double reel feature comedies. The first release is "Love and Surgery," in two full reels, and features Billie Ritchie and Gertrude Selby. The leading parts in their hands insures a rip-roaring and side-splitting picture throughout.

Then there's an extra full reel—a brand new Nestor drama, "The Wall of Flame" featuring Murdock MacQuarrie and Agnes Vernon.

GAMES FURNISHED UPSETS.

Bugs Won First Game and Rebels Blew Up at Brigade.

In the games played at the Boys' Brigade last night the Bugs, by playing the game according to the latest methods, instead of as individuals, won their first victory, while the Rebels, a team which has been going at top speed for several weeks, finally blew up and were overwhelmingly defeated by the Skeeters, whose playing, both as individuals and as a team, was the best seen in the Brigade in the minor league this or any other season. The scores were Bugs 26, Orioles 22; Skeeters 33, Rebels 14.

Summary: Field goals, J. Fowler 2; James 2; Snakenburg 1; G. Fowler 4; C. Griffith 5; H. Fergus 3; Carney 2; Foul goals, J. Fowler 2; James 1; Snakenburg 1; Griffith 2; Fergus 4. Second game: Field goals, Smith 3; Andrews 1; Duncan 2; F. Griffith 2; Bell 3; Rourk 6; Gafford 2; Futrell 3. Foul goals, Andrews 2; Rourk 1; awarded by referee, 1.

The games between teams of the Friday Night League will be played tonight with the Giants and Cardinals opponents and the Naps and Braves contenders. There should be two really high class games and no doubt they will be witnessed by a very large crowd. Admission to the public free of charge. The games will begin at 8:30 sharp.

THE NEW-WAY MARKET.

To be Opened at Front and Market by Mr. W. H. McEachern.

The New-Way Market will be the name of a modern and up-to-date market business to be established at the southwest corner of Front and Market streets within the next few weeks by Mr. W. H. McEachern, who has leased the building formerly occupied by the Warren Candy Company, which is now moving to the former location of the late Mr. M. H. Curran's tailoring establishment, several blocks northward.

Mr. McEachern plans to open up the new market as soon as the interior of the building can be remodeled and fixtures installed. Everything will be modern to the last detail, and he plans to give Wilmington a market that any city might be proud of. The New-Way will handle fresh meats of all kinds, poultry, green goods and fruits, and will make a specialty of products fresh from the Highland Place Farm on Masonboro sound, owned by Mr. McEachern. He has had abundant experience in raising and handling fancy poultry, live stock, truck of all varieties, etc.

Economy and cleanliness, Mr. McEachern says, will be the motto of the New-Way Market Company. Mr. McEachern is a well known and able business man, and will give the market his personal attention.

It Always Helps

says Mrs. Sylvania Woods, of Clifton Mills, Ky., in writing of her experience with Cardui, the woman's tonic. She says further: "Before I began to use Cardui, my back and head would hurt so bad, I thought the pain would kill me. I was hardly able to do any of my housework. After taking three bottles of Cardui, I began to feel like a new woman. I soon gained 35 pounds, and now, I do all my housework, as well as run a big water mill.

I wish every suffering woman would give a trial. I still use Cardui when I feel a little bad, and it always does me good."

Headache, backache, side ache, nervousness, tired, worn-out feelings, etc., are sure signs of womanly trouble. Signs that you need Cardui, the woman's tonic. You cannot make a mistake in trying Cardui for your trouble. It has been helping weak, ailing women for more than fifty years.

INDICATIONS ARE FAVORABLE

For an Early Resumption of Futures Trading in Cotton on New York Exchange.

New York, Nov. 11.—Today's developments in local cotton trade circles indicated an early resumption of futures trading. At a meeting this afternoon the plans submitted by the special committee for the organization of a clearing house were approved except in to the board of managers, but this now some minor details and referred back appears to be the only matter under consideration that has not been definitely settled and it is not expected that the scheme will be put into operation before the opening. Reports that an advance of $500 was bid for cotton exchange memberships here, were supposed to reflect increased optimism. December contracts were a shade lower on the curb here at 7.50 to 7.55. Southern spot markets, however, were generally steady and unchanged to ¼c. higher.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON.

Increased Liquidation Worked Against Price of Futures on Market.

New Orleans, Nov. 11.—Increased liquidation worked against the price of futures contracts in the local cotton market today, January trading at 7.55 and 7.56, quite freely. This was about the level of yesterday's market, there being no rise in sympathy with the improvement of eighth in the spot department.

The announcement from Liverpool that short sales of futures would be allowed above the minimum price of 4.25 for May-June, together with a better inquiry for cotton from exporters gave the market a steady undertone, since both features indicated a return to more healthy state of affairs.

Spot cotton, steady. Sales, on the spot, 325 bales, to arrive, 1,425.

COTTON SEED OIL MARKET.

New York, Nov. 11.—Cotton seed oil was lower for December, under liquidation, while later months were generally higher on covering of shorts and buying by refiners, together with the strength in lard and a better demand for compound lard. FINANCIAL IMPROVEMENTS

Continued Improvement in Financial Circles Noted—Reserve Requirements Reduced.

New York, Nov. 11.—Continued improvement in the financial situation was again in evidence today. This was seen in the removal of virtually all restrictions against dealings in unlisted securities the official intimation of an early reopening of the cotton exchange and the unanimous vote of the Clearing House Association on the question of reducing reserve requirements from 25 to 18 per cent., in accordance with the provisions of the Federal Reserve Law which becomes effective at the begining of next week.

Apart from another decline in exchange on Germany, which was reflected in a lower quotation for marks, the market for various forms of foreign remittance, was without material change. Sterling cables were higher at the outset but receded later in the day.

The outcome of the recent naval engagament in the Indian ocean found response in record-breaking shipments of cotton, as well as another reduction in marine insurance rates.

Sentiment regarding steel trade conditions was more cheerful although little new buying was reported. There were reports of a better foreign demand for copper metal, but this had no effect on quoted prices which were unchanged.

Call money was a trifle firmer, but enormous loans were made at 6 1-4 per cent. Time accommodations showed an easier trend. Commercial paper was more freely accepted at the lower rates recently quoted, the inquiry coming mainly from New England.

All the news from London was of an optimistic character. A ruling permitting members of the British Board of Trade to deal in stocks during the impending settlement, without payment of extra margin interest, was helpful in stabilizing prices in the London market.

MANY MASONS GATHER FOR FALL REUNION

Now in Session at Newbern—Thinks Glanders Came From Chicago.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, Nov. 11.—A large number of Masons from various sections of the State, gathered in Newbern yesterday to attend the fall reunion of the coordinate bodies of the Ancient and Accepted Rite of Freemasonry which is being held here for three days this week. The first real work on the program was the assembly of the class upon which degrees are to be conferred. This took place in the afternoon and degrees up to the ninth were conferred. Last night the ninth and tenth degrees were conferred. This afternoon degrees from the eleventh to fifteenth will be conferred and tonight a banquet, a real social event in which every local and visiting Mason will participate will be held in the Masonic hall. The reunion will come to a close tomorrow night with the conferring of the 32nd degree. The direction of all the exercises is under the supervision of Dr. J. F. Rhem, 32d degree K. C. C. H., and who is known all over Masonic circles of the State.

Dr. J. F. Foley, a well known veterinarian of Kinston, is of the opinion that the recent epidemic of glanders among the stock in the vicinity of Vanceboro, originated in the stock yards of Chicago and that the disease there has been evident for some time. A few weeks before the epidemic broke out at Vanceboro a citizen of that section purchased several animals from a Chicago dealer and it was among these that the disease was first discovered. Fortunately for this section the epidemic was discovered in time to prevent a general spreading of it but not before a large number of animals had been put to death.

Kinston Wholesale Grocery Firm Makes Unique Announcement.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 11.—It was a unique announcement made by a wholesale grocery here yesterday: "Miss Kate Ansel, of Beanstown, Pa., and Miss Christie Havelhorst, of 226 S. Lane avenue, Grand Rapids, Mich., want to get married."

Particulars were that the girls had slipped cards into packages of merchandise sent out from the factories in which they were employed, inviting attention of whoever might find them, to their matrimonial aspirations. The packages might have gone to the Fiji Islands as easily as they made their way here nearly, but the writers appeared not to be choice. Indications are that the young ladies will receive great quantities of mail at any rate.

HIS RESIGNATION DECLINED

Mayor of LaGrange Will Serve the Town a While Longer.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., Nov. 11.—James F. Peele, mayor of LaGrange, has resigned himself to hold the job until the end of his term, at least. The town council of LaGrange last night refused to accept his resignation, which Peele sent in because private affairs required his attention more than the public's business. The town, with less than 2,000 population, is out of debt and has money in the treasury, and now wants Peele, who is said to be an admirable publiv servant, to steer it into new channels of prosperity. For instance, LaGrange intends to pave the business district.

FIRE AT PINETOPS

Store Building and Stock Burned at Loss of $9,000.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

The store building occupied by Mack Harrell, general merchant, was burned with a total loss of the stock. The fire was discovered at 5 o'clock and the entire building was then in flames. The origin of the fire is unknown. The stock was valued at $7,000 with partial insurance. The building, the property of Mrs. W. J. Webb, was worth $2,000 and was covered by insurance.

WILSON IN FAVOR OF BETTER ROADS

Letter From President Read at Good Roads Congress

AN AID TO EDUCATION

Chief Executive Writes That Matter of Administration and Maintenance of Present Roads as Important as New Ones.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 11.—President Wilson today informed the American Good Roads Congress, in session here, that he considered good roads a prerequisite to the betterment of rural life in a number of directions.

"Improved roads, especially improved community roads from the farm to the nearest railway station, are an urgent necessity," said the President. "They are essential to the economical marketing of farm products, and for the development of the educational and social institutions of the country."

The President's views were expressed in a letter to Austin B. Fletcher, State highway engineer of California, and president of the Congress. Mr. Wilson had been invited to attend a meeting of the Congress, but finding that he was compelled to be absent, sent a letter which he asked to be communicated to the meeting.

Relative to movement to obtain increased funds for the construction of highways, the letter said:

"As important as the matter of providing additional funds are matters of better administration and the better maintenance of roads already constructed. The nation is now expending more than $20,000,000 annually for the construction and maintenance of roads and it is clair that we are not getting the results we should have.

Better Attention to Roads.

"The proper planning for road systems in States, the development of better methods of administration, State and local and the proper maintenance of roads, will, I am sure, receive particular attention from your body."

When the people are convinced that they will receive full value for every dollar expended on roads they will be brought more easily to an appreciation of the need for furthar expenditure and will make the requisite provision."

Fairfax Harrison, president of the Southern Railway, Henry G. Shirley, chief engineer of the Maryland State road commission; William D. Schier, cahirman of the Massachusetts Highway Commission; George W. Cooley, State highway engineer of Minnesota; S. Perry Hooker, State superintendent of engineering in New Hampshire; W. F. Atkinson, State highway engineer of Louisiana; A. D. Williams, chief engineer of the State Roads Commission of West Virginia and President Fletcher were speakers today.

The principal discussion of road construction predominated in the addresses.

Floral Exhibits.

The judges for the floral exhibit, which is being given under the auspices of Sorosis, announced the prize winners in this department as follows:

Dr. J. H. Dreher, handsomest collection of chrysanthemums; Miss Lucy Moore, handsomest collection of bronze chrysanthemums; Dr. J. H. Dreher, handsomest white chrysanthemums and for the best display of potted plants Mrs. Fowler was awarded the prize for having the most artistic collection of plants. Miss Janie Strange was given a blue ribbon for a handsome display of flowers.

The floral department of the fair, which occupies two rooms' is attracting much attention, being one of the best ever to be shown in Wilmington. Mr. Will Rehder has a pretty collection of carnations and roses, all of these being grown in Wilmington in his green house which was completed only last summer.

"Made in Wilmington."

The "Made in Wilmington" exhibit continues to attract much attention, being one of the most complete exhibitions of manufactured products ever seen here. It is indeed remarkable that Wilmington has such a varied line of industries, many of which the people in this city know little about. This exhibit has been an education in itself.

In addition to the long list of exhibits mentioned in yesterday's Star are others of equal interest, among these being that of the Monroe Brass Polish Manufacturing Company, this being a compound for cleaning all kinds of metals. The Imperial Manufacturing Company has an interesting skirt exhibit. The Acme Tea Chest Company shows several different kinds of veneering. Mr. W. E. Worth is showing something new, this being samples of peanut oil, a table delicacy that rivals olive oil. Mr. W. H. Everett has an exhibit of awnings. The Tidewater Power Company is showing samples of wood treated with creosote and also has a pretty exhibit showing how coke can be used for fuel.

The Wilmington Iron Works is showing a line of irons manufactured by them. The Hanover Mattress Company has a most interesting exhibit showing the splendid mattress that they manufacture. The Tucker Marble Works have samples of their output. The Porjas Chemical Company have an exhibit of "headache nip." The Swift Fertilizer Works have an interesting exhibit showing the different kinds of fertilizers that they manufacture.

The Art Department.

The art department with its complete exhibit of all kinds of artistic work is another place that is attracting much attention. Mrs. Alberta Faison Shaw has on exhibition a home spun linen cover, made from Sampson county flax, which is over a hundred years old. She also has a bed spread made from the same material. Both of these were made by a kinswoman of Mrs. Shaw and show what can be done at home. An old copy of Blackstone's commentaries which Mrs. Shaw is showing has attracted much interest, this having been published in 1765. An old Scotch Bible, 107 years old, is also an object of interest.

In the cotton room is an exhibit by the Duncan Mills, of Greenville, S. C., that shows the kind of cotton goods that they manufacture. It is interesting to note that the Wilmington mills —the Delgado and the Bellwill—both of which have elaborate exhibits in this room, are now selling their goods on the Northern markets.

In the Home Science Department one of the most interesting collections is that of household and kitchen devices, made by the boys and girls of Wilmington. This exhibit is in charge of Mrs. John Thames. The fireless cooker, made in Wilmington, is specially interesting.

The Live Stock Exhibit.

The live stock exhibit at Fourth and Princess streets, is creating the greatest interest, not only among the men but also among the women. Beside the splendid exhibit of hogs and cattle there are geese, poultry of all kinds, pigeons and ducks. A visit to this part of the show is well worth while and everyone should by all means see it. A handsome Percheron stallion owned by Mr. J. H. Hinton is on exhibition.

TREASURY DECLARES WAR ON TAX DODGERS

Nation-Wide Campaign to Round Up Delinquents.

Millions of Dollars Are Not in Treasury That Should Be There—War on Income Tax Skippers to Be to a Finish.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Officials of the Treasury Department are seeking to lay the ground work for a vigorous and nation-wide campaign for the detection of income tax dodgers and the collection of unpaid taxes which some authorities believe may mount into the millions.

The effort is directed particularly against persons who are stockholders and drawers of dividends from the corporations of the country. There are more than 300,000 corporations doing business in the United States, according to returns from the corporation excise law, and if any plan is adopted to institute a thorough search of their lists of shareholders and the records of their dividends it will be most exhaustive and may take years. For the present no such plan is likely to be adopted, however, and it is understood to be the hope of officials that the corporations will furnish information upon request.

Since the first returns from the income tax were totalled there has been no concealment of the fact that Treasury officials were disappointed. The tax collected fell many millions below what was expected. The estimates of taxable individuals on which Congress framed the law were far at variance with the figures returned by internal collectors. The difference between the returns and estimates was over the 100,000 mark.

Under the law the normal tax of one per cent. is withheld by the corporations themselves on such payments as dividends. Probably there has been virtually no violation of the law in this quarter. The failures to pay are assumed to be among the class of taxables whose incomes are subject to the surtax on more than 20,000 annually.

Aggregate figures of a corporation's dividend payments would not aid in discovering the incames of individuals and about the only method left to get a check upon them is through lists of stockholders and actual divided payments to them.

The scope of such a task has been the subject of comment among those who have heard this plan broacehd. It has been pointed out that corporations such as the big railroad systems of the country, the United States Steel Corporation and scores of others have outstanding thousands of shares of stock spread among thousands of shareholders. The physical labor of transscribing lists from these corporations, in case they are not voluntarily given, probably would be enormous and the expense might be great.

ties." There could be no end until one triumphed.

A peace patched up now would be merely a hollow truce, during which the contending nations would begin to prepare for a renewal of the struggle.

Europe meanwhile would be living in continual alarm.

Earl of Crawford, Unionist, urged more strenuous methods to get rid of German spies. He asserted that in the vicinity of the great naval base of Rosyth they signalled ships at night. There had also been discovered an admirably equipped private post system between Fife and German ports.

MONOPOLY ON FOODSTUFFS

Holland Contracts With Steamer Line to Refuse Private Shipments.

Washington, Nov. 11.—Holland has created a virtual government monopoly of importation of flour, foodstuffs, cereals and cattle foods. The State Department announced tonight that the Netherlands government had contracted with the Holland American Line, the only neutral steamship line plying regularly between the United States and the Netherlands, whereby private shipments will not be accepted.

American millers protested to the Department that the action of Holland, if duplicated by other neutral countries, would demoralize the American flour trade. This statement was issued by Counsellor Lansing:

"Shipments of flour and other foodstuffs consigned to private firms in Holland will not be barred from Dutch ports when carried in American or other neutral vessels, but the Holland American Line can not accept such shipments. The Netherlands government does not intend to forbid the fulfillment of private contracts, but under existing conditions private Dutch importers having such orders for American foodstuffs should apply to the Department of Commerce of The Netherlands government for permission to have such goods consigned to or bought by the Dutch government.

Department officials refused to make any further comment. It is known the American government has no way of interferring with such a monopoly. Germany and Austria has no way of interferring with suc ha monopoly. Germany and Austria have oil and tobacco monopolies respectively.

Just what efforts would be made by Millers to obtain ships to carry their flour to Dutch ports is not known here but a move in that direction seemed to officials to offer a possible solution.

BRITISH GUNBOAT SUNK.

German Submarine Torpedoes the Niger—Crew All Saved.

London, Nov. 12.—The British torpedo gunboat Niger has been torpedoed by a submarine in the Downs, according to an official announcement tonight.

The Niger foundered, but all the officers and crew were saved. Two men were severely and two slightly injured.

How to Peel Off a Weatherbeaten Face

It's really a simple matter to renovate a face soiled by dirt, wind or cold. Ordinary mercolized wax, used like cold cream, will transform the worst old complexion into one of snowy whiteness and velvety softness. It literally peels off the outer veil of surface skin, but so gently, gradually, there's no discomfort. The wornout skin comes off, not in patches, but evenly, in tiny particles, leaving no evidence of the treatment. The younger, healthier under-skin forming the new complexion is one of captivating loveliness. One ounce of mercolized wax, to be had at any drug store, is enough to remove any coarse, chapped, pimpled, freckled, faded or sallow skin. Apply before retiring, washing it off mornings.

Many skins wrinkle easily with every wind that blows. An excellent wrinkle-remover, because it tightens the skin and strengthens relaxed muscles, is a wash lotion made as follows: Powdered saxolite, 1 oz., dissolved in witch hazel, one-half pint. This gives immediate results.
